

Designated Family/

Support Persons:

Education Booklet

We are so excited to have you as a designated family/ support person. We understand how essential it is for our resident's mental and physical health to have meaningful interactions with their loved ones.

In this short booklet, we will review some important details you must be aware of prior to your visit. As a designated family/ support person, you hold a unique role and responsibility in ensuring the safety of yourself and your loved one, as well as other residents and staff.

After reading through this booklet and understanding this material, it is expected that you will adhere by the precautions as outlined. If you have any questions, please clarify them before your visit.

Risk Assessment- Facility Level

Each site has unique risks, depending on its residents and building design. Some factors that increase the risk for COVID-19 infection and spread are:

- Large number of residents aged 80 and up
- Resident frailty and illness
- Shared bedrooms or bathrooms, and large common areas

Based on the demographic and building layout of Allen Gray continuing care, along with feedback from residents, families and staff, we have identified ourselves to have a low-risk tolerance. This means we have many factors that make our facility at an increased risk for COVID-19 infection and spread.

As a low-risk tolerance facility, it is imperative that all individuals visiting Allen Gray :

- Understand the risk of exposure to COVID-19 (for self and others)
- Follow all related site policies and public health measures that are in place
- Remain vigilant in protecting themselves and others, both while in the facility and off site.

Risk Assessment- Individual Level

As a designated family/support person, it is important to assess your own risk. Look back on your activities over the past 14 days to assess whether you could have been exposed to COVID-19. Below is some examples of lower-risk visitors vs. higher-risk visitors. It is encouraged that higher-risk visitors do not visit, or change their risk habits.

What to Expect When You Come for Your Visit

This includes answering a number of questions, as well as a temperature check. Anyone with symptoms or recent exposure to COVID-19 will not be permitted to proceed with their visit.

- If your loved one is newly admitted (within 14 days) or on isolation precautions, you will see a isolation sign on their door. A staff member will demonstrate how to properly put on the necessary personal protective equipment (PPE) before you enter the room. You must wear this PPE the entire duration of your visit. This may include gown, gloves, and goggles/face shield, depending on the precautions needed.
- Drinks or food that are brought for residents only and should not be exchanged between the resident and the visitor.
- Visitors may not visit if feeling unwell (cough, sneezing, runny nose, difficulty breathing, sore throat, fever, pink eye or any other symptoms of illness).

Safe Touch

The risk of transmission of COVID-19 increases with close proximity. If a resident and their designated family/ support persons or visitors understand this and they wish to include physical touch in their visits, this may be done by following the additional guidance:

- Stop close contact with the resident and inform staff immediately if the resident becomes symptomatic during the visit.
- Perform hand hygiene both before and after direct physical contact with the resident.
- As per the risk assessment above, individuals at a high risk of unknown exposure are not recommended to physically touch a resident.
- Masks must be worn at all times.

OUTDOOR VISITS

- DSP is responsible to take residents to designated outdoor visit location and return them to their room.
- DSP's are required to wear PPE (face mask and face shield) during outdoor visits.
- DSP's are responsible to sanitize visiting area at beginning and end of the visit.

Failure to comply with safe visitation guidelines may result in a visitor being restricted or having their visitation privileges revoked.

- Visitors are expected to be on time and due to scheduling limitations, we may not be able to accommodate a full visit if the visitor is late. Please notify the site as soon as possible if you anticipate difficulty meeting your scheduled visit time.

After Your Visit

- Once your visit is over, please go directly to the front doors. You must sign out of the visitor log at this time.
- You must wear your mask face shield until you reach the exit. Once there, you can remove your mask and perform hand hygiene.
- Please disinfect the face shield before bringing it with you next time.
- If you develop any symptoms within 14 days of your visit, you must notify Allen Gray continuing care center

Safe Visitation Practice |

Risk of Unknown Exposure to COVID-19

It is important for all persons to understand their risk of unknown exposure to COVID-19, based on their behavior in the last 14 days, prior to entering the site and modify their behavior accordingly.

(Refer to the Table below.)

- It is particularly critical that active Health Assessment Screening is completed at entry, is answered completely and accurately, and anyone with symptoms or recent known exposure to COVID-19 not enter the site at all.
- While individuals do not need to disclose their assessed risk of unknown exposure to the security staff or greater, they must ensure the resident or alternate decision maker is aware of it and behave accordingly.

Individuals should limit the number of different sites they enter and provide in-person visits to only one site per day to the greatest extent possible.

Low Risk	Medium Risk	High Risk
To be considered at low risk of unknown exposure, all the following conditions must be met: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Does not work or live in an area of high COVID-19 exposure (refer to Risk designation of region) • Works from home • Part of a small cohort (15 or less) who consistently practices physical distancing and masks when cannot maintain distance • Not have had guests at home in the past 14 days • Visits resident(s) in one site in a day • Makes essential outings only • Uses own vehicle • Consistently maintains 2 metres of distance from those outside household in all activities • Mask worn when cannot maintain physical distancing • Consistent hand hygiene • No interprovincial travel within the last 14 days 	There will be many variations that arise between the extremes of high and low risk of unknown exposure Individuals must use their best judgement to determine risk of unknown exposure where neither low nor high is appropriate.	To be considered at high risk of unknown exposure, any one or more of the following may be met: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Works or lives in an area of high COVID-19 exposure (refer to Risk designation of region) • Works outside home in settings where distancing is not consistently maintained and masking is not consistently used • Worked at or visited a location with a declared COVID-19 outbreak in last 14 days • Part of a large cohort (more than 15) • Cohort inconsistently practices physical distancing and use of masks when cannot maintain distance • Have had guests in home in last 14 days • Visits resident(s) in multiple sites in one day • Outings where contact with others outside household is likely • Use of public transit or carpooling where distancing is not consistently maintained and masking is not consistently used • Does not maintain physical distancing and does not wear a mask • Infrequent or inconsistent hand hygiene • Interprovincial travel within the past 14 days
